- and physical

Yoga is not just exercise, but it's a challenge and certainly a good investment for the further physical and mental development of children.

Why = reason to decide

Yoga has positive effect on:

- proper breathing, which is extremely important for life
- good body posture and movement coordination
- concentration of mind
- inter-personal discipline
- digestion, immunity and nervous system

Yoga is:

- therapy for hyperactive, autistic, mentally handicapped children
- Medicine for back ache, flat feet, stress, allergies ...
- recipe for good academic results, empathy, development of creativity ...

How

For kids, Yoga is a nice movement, which brings them distraction and games. Baby Yoga consists of various poses (asana) that are linked to the story. We can say that Baby Yoga is exercised in playful form with respect to the child's age. Children are constantly motivated by different types of movements.

For example: three years old children can not concentrate on any long-term exercise. We will catch their instable attention with short, not demanding sets of poses. Nevertheless, children are learning to breathe properly and concentrate with every exercise. Therefore, Baby Yoga exercises are lead by our certified instructors.
